FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

KIVA Records is proud to announce the release:

"DOO BEE DOO"

Music of the Australian Aboriginal Didgeridoo How to Play, How to Make Your Own & Heaps More

This is the second U.S. recording of Australian didgeridoo player and storyteller Paul "Walking Stick" Taylor. This work has been inspired by the responses of thousands of school children across the American West to hearing the music of the didgeridoo live for the first time.

"He's better than a warm chocolate chip cookie right out of the oven."
9 year old girl, N.E. Elementary, Parker, CO

While geared more towards a children's audience, the project is a valuable and enlightening introduction to the instrument for listeners of all ages. There's plenty of music with the didgeridoo placed in context with a wide variety of instruments including flute, accordion, guitars and fiddle. Taylor's narration gives interesting insights into the history of the didgeridoo and the legends that accompany its use.

"Fascinating educational opportunity that mixes music with legend in an easy listening context."
