

didjeridu

Don Spencer

E E sus E E sus E E sus

E E sus E E sus E E sus E E sus

E E sus E E A

Did - jer - i, Did - jer - i, Did - jer - i - du, lis - ten to the song of the did - jer - i - du. The land is red the sky is blue. The sound of Aus - tra - lia is the did - jer - i

E B E E

E A E B

E E Fine E du. ^{1 - 3} There's mag - ic in the From mothers and fathers to

E A E B E

song they sang from the heart of the land of the boom - er - rang. The daughters and sons from the legends of the dream time live on.

Chorus

Didjeri, Didjeri, Didjeri du

Listen to the song of the didjeridu

The land is red, the sky is blue

The sound of Australia is the didjeridu

Verse(1)

There's magic in the song they sang

From the heart of the land of the boomerang

The snake, the goanna and the Kangaroo

They're all in the song of the didjeridu

Verse(2)

From mother's and father's to daughter's and sons The legends of the Dreamtime live on

Born on the wings of the winds that blew

Echo in the song of the didjeridu

23

E E A A E

snake the go - ann - a and the kang - a - roo, are all in the born on the wings of the winds that blew And echoed in the

E B E E E D.S. al Fine

26

song of the did - jer - i - du.
 song of the did - jer - i - du.