

Long ago in the Dreamtime there lived a brilliant star who outshone all the other stars. He loved to dance and make music. He played his lagerphone all night long and kept the other stars awake. In a moment of extreme tiredness the elder stars banned that lively star to Earth. His punishment was to teach earthlings about music and dance. And that's how it came to be that we were lucky enough to live and learn with Paul Taylor.

Mrs. Faris, 2nd Grade
Harrison Elementary
Green River, Wyoming